1. Applicant is given no new time period if the non-compliant amendment is an after-final amendment or an amendment filed after allowance. If applicant wishes to resubmit the non-compliant after-final amendment with corrections, the entire corrected amendment must be resubmitted.
2. Applicant is given one month, or thirty (30) days, whichever is longer, from the mail date of this notice to supply the correction, if the non-compliant amendment is one of the following: a preliminary amendment, a non-final amendment (including a submission for a request for continued examination (RCE) under 37 CFR 1.114), a supplemental amendment filed within a suspension period under 37 CFR 1.103(a) or (c), and an amendment filed in response to a Quayle action. Continuation of 4(e) Other: As stated in the previous Notice of Non-Compliant Amendment, in general for both specification and claim amendments, double brackets should only be used when showing the deletion of 5 or fewer characters and when strikethrough is hard to discern. Otherwise, strikethrough should be used. When deleting text, strikethrough OR double brackets need to be used, not both. In addition, in claim 1, the double brackets before the strikethrough in "generating a counter..." have a strikethrough, so it makes it unclear whether the double brackets signify a deletion or is text to be deleted. However, those double brackets have not previously existed in the text. In claim 4, "generating a checkpoint" has double brackets, but double brackets should only be used with hard to discern characters and 5 or fewer characters. Claim 11 has single brackets around the word "generate" and, as stated in previous Notices, single brackets have no meaning for deletion purposes and newly added language must be underlined. Also in claim 11, one of the double brackets around "at one of a plurality of branches" has a strikethrough, so it is unclear whether this bracket, which has not been previously introduced in the claim language, is deleted or part of a double brackets. Please make appropriate corrections to all amended claims by ensuring deletions are shown by using either double brackets for deletions of hard to see text of 5 or fewer characters OR strikethrough for all other instances.
